PIONEER WASHER.
E. G. BOLTER,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.
THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and hurting, with proper care, for ten years The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It having a light cover, the steam thus assists materially in cleansing the clothes, and also avoids the inhaling of steam from hot suds.
This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to all housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women
It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]
DATES TO AUGUST 31.
[Continuation of Saturday's report.]
CHICAGO, August 31

Important official correspondence between the President and General Sickles was considered in the Cabinet meeting to day and it was finally decided to publish the Attorney General's opinion on it
The order explains what appears to be a contradiction in statements in some papers regarding the correspondence—It having been stated that Order No 10 had, and had not been revoked, by Gen Grant It appears that Sickles did not get a dispatch from Grant, requesting him to modify that order under which the conflict arose between the military and the courts Sickles asked that the order be held in abeyance until he could explain Grant or quissed The President then directed the commencement of proceedings against Sickles for violation of criminal law, and the District Attorney was directed to procure and indictment against him Sickles telegraphed to Grant denouncing this proceeding in the warmest manner, and declared that he was not amenable to a grand jury or District Attorney The President then ordered the removal of Sickles
Mr Stoddman had a long interview with the President to-day The Star has rumors that Stoddman is going into the war department. They are probably untrue.
Blair, Sr., is also here. There is no truth in the dispatch that the President has positively decided to remove Pope
CHICAGO, Aug 31—The Tribune's special says there is the best reasons to suppose that Grant has issued an order to the district commanders forbidding the reinstatement of displaced officials. Strong efforts are being made to have Gov Wells reinstated on the ground that he only can sign the levee bonds entire. Four million bonds have been negotiated on condition of the reinstatement of Wells To sustain this more certain, letters of radical Senators, and a letter of Grant, setting forth the importance of building the levee have been twisted into a virtual condemnation of Sheridan's course.
The scheme for displacing Commissioner Rollins is gathering great strength. Gen. Sheridan declares the place was offered to him, but he does not want it. A charge is being urged against Rollins to afford pretext for his removal.
An advertisement appears in the Intelligencer to-day desiring to purchase Confederate bonds
An impression of pending troubles in Maryland is entertained Military companies are organizing and drilling rapidly
The Star has information that Sickles intends to retire from the army and commence the practice of law.

Gen. Pope's Department.
AUGUSTA, Aug. 30—General Pope, in reply to a question, says that no conceivable state of affairs could induce him to issue an order staying the collection of debts or interfering with the general business in the State The only bonds he will issue are those necessary to the execution of the reconstruction act. People must look for relief to the convention.
Gov Orr advises people to register and vote for a convention. He being convinced that the attitude of the negroes in the convention and legislature will produce a wonderful reaction in favor of the South throughout the North.

Prize Fight.
CHICAGO, Aug. 30—The prize fight between Aaron Jones and Mike McCool, which takes place to-morrow near Cincinnati, excites interest in almost all circles of society It will probably be more numerously attended than anything of the kind ever witnessed before in the country. Both pugilists are in excellent condition and each is confident of victory John C. Heenan is present and taking great interest in his old trainer, Jones Immense sums of money are wagered on the result. McCool is the favorite at small odds.
CHICAGO, Aug. 30.—McCool knocked Jones out of time on the 24th round. Two of Jones ribs were broken. McCool is but slightly injured.

PARIS, Aug. 30,—Napoleon, while temporarily delayed at Lelelle yesterday, made a brief speech He alluded to past reverses as dark spots on the horizon and commented at some length on the pacific state of affairs in Europe He spoke encouragingly and prophesied that certain peace would give a great impetus to trade He blamed the directors of the public press for spreading unfounded rumors and creating general distrust. He himself would do all in his power to restore confidence.
It is reported that the French foreign office will soon issue a note pacific in character
STUTTGARDT, Aug 30—The Gazette, of this city, denies that the question of a South German bond was discussed or ever broached in the recent conference at Salzburg

GOV. WOODS IN CALIFORNIA.—The following notice of Governor Woods is taken from the Grass Valley (Cal.) Union, a paper noted for the intense quality of its Democracy. It will be seen that the Governor is teaching his political opponents to respect his abilities, and is showing Californians of whatever party, that Oregon, however much they may deride her, produces men.
Governor Woods, of Oregon, was the next speaker, and we unhesitatingly pronounce him the ablest stumper we have yet heard on his side of the question. He is a fluent speaker, uses forcible and correct English to express his ideas, and makes all his points with the ease of a professional political speaker. He is undoubtedly the best card the Radicals have, and we are not surprised that Gorham should have imported him to this State to act as an exposure, as has been alleged, of $5 000. His speech created more enthusiasm than all the other speeches of the Radicals who have spoken this season One noticeable feature of his speech was, that he denied the policy of Gorham, that this State had no right to regulate the suffrage question for itself, but that Congress should say who should be voters. This probably illustrates the difference between Radicalism in California, as expressed by one who would like to be the Governor Contrasting the two men, the conclusion is forced on one that the Radical gubernatorial material of Oregon is much better than that of California. The speaker, on concluding his speech, was greeted with hearty cheers.

The first corporators of Yale College were twelve clergymen, each of whom had laid a book upon the table. These became the foundation of Yale Library.

LETTER FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27, 1867.

RAILROADING.

In our letter of the 17th inst, we spoke in regard to railroading, and we again approach the subject with confidence, for to Oregon it is a subject of the most vital importance, and your clear headed citizens acknowledge it. We have talked with many of them, and from that conversation we judge they are as full of go aheadativeness in certain matters, as was their worthy ancestors in New England in the early times of this continent. We clip the following from the commercial column of the Alta.

"We remarked recently upon the great want of railroads and means of transportation in the State. The following is an approximation of the number of miles now in operation:

	Miles.
Central Pacific ..... Sacramento to Summit	100
Sacramento Valley ..... Sacramento to Folsom	22½
San Jose ..... San Francisco to San Jose	50
Western Pacific ..... San Jose to Stockton	—
Placerville & Sacramento.. Folsom to Shingle Sp'gs	26
California Central.. ..... Folsom to Lincoln	21
Yuba ..... Lincoln to Marysville	16
Northern California ..... Marysville to Oroville	26
Copperopolis ..... Stockton to Copperopolis	35
San Francisco & Alam'a ..... Encinal to Haywood	14
Napa Valley ..... Soscol to Napa	4
Oakland ..... Oakland Pt to Clinton	4
Petaluma ..... Rudesill's Lg to Petaluma	3
Total in operation ..... miles	336½

In addition to these are the projected roads between Vallejo and Marysville, and between Benicia and Sacramento. The progress of the Pacific road will before long take up the line of some of these roads, and thus form continuous connections through some of the most fertile valleys of the State. The Central Pacific, running from Goat Island, taking up the Oakland and Alameda roads, and thence to Sacramento, will form a main trunk by which some very large and fertile valleys will be drained. The Northern California road, to connect with Portland, will prove of vast importance. The Oregon Legislature have authorized the endorsement of $1,000,000 of 7 per cent. bonds and the Federal Government has given 6,400 acres of land per mile of road. The whole number of miles in operation and projected is, however, very far below the demands of the State interest.
"In 1862, Illinois had no more miles of railroad than California has now—that is, 371. Her population was then 851,470. Since then she has built 2,632 miles of road, and her population has increased 505 souls for every mile of road. The population has, as will be found by following the census on a railway map, increased mostly along the line of the roads, and for the obvious reason, that those roads alone made the land available. All those 3,000 miles of road, crossing and intersecting every part of the State, concentrate in Chicago. The result of that concentration are seen in the following figures:

	Population	Assessed Property.	Per head	Exports. Grain, bu.
1853	69,130	$16,841,653	$284	5,573,141
1865	200,418	85,963,250	428	55,720,150

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 5, 1867.

General Grant and the Reconstruction Act.

Last week the special correspondents at Washington were very busy in endeavoring to show that General Grant had positively refused to obey the orders of his constitutional superior, and some excitable editors in these distant parts almost fell into convulsions through their unusual exertions in shouting that Grant was a "traitor." But the special correspondents, after three or four days' work, failed to establish their assertions that Grant had refused to obey the President, and could only show that he had written a letter or two protesting earnestly against the removal of Sheridan and the transfer of Hancock to the Gulf, and telling the Executive some very wholesome truths about his "policy" and its consequences. Out of these letters the story was evidently fabricated that Grant had defied the authority of his superiors. His vigorous and just protest against the removal of Sheridan was tortured into this interpretation by the correspondents, who, drawing on their imaginations for their facts, presented a story which created some sensation and set the whole Copperhead press to howling in concert against Grant. We do not believe, nor did we believe at the time, that Grant did anything more than protest against Sheridan's removal. He had no thought of disobeying the Executive's orders, but simply endeavored by the use of his influence to prevent any changes among the military commanders. His letter was every way admirable, and its language was that of earnest counsel and plain-spoken, truthful advice, instead of the language of disobedience. For this letter Grant is highly commended by every loyal man. But the story that he first set himself in direct antagonism to Johnson, refused to obey his orders and finally backed down, is grossly improbable. It is scarcely conceivable that Grant would deliberately take a position from which he would be compelled to recede in this manner. The statement was, that in his view the reconstruction act gave him, as General of the army, the sole power of removing the district commanders, and that he therefore denied the right of Johnson to remove Sheridan and Sickles, but on further examination of the act he had become convinced that he had misapprehended his own powers under it and had accordingly retracted or backed down from his position. Now let us look at the law and see if it is capable of such an interpretation, by a person of ordinary intelligence, as he is said to have given it. The second and third sections of the supplementary act are the only ones wherein any mention is made of the duties of the General of the army. In the second section the right of the district commanders to remove any persons holding office in their respective districts, subject to the decision of the General of the army is affirmed in these words:

SEC. 2. That the Commanders of any Districts named in said Act shall have power, subject to the approval of the General of the Army of the United States, and have effect if disapproved, whenever, in the opinion of the Commander for the proper administration of said Act shall require it, to suspend or remove from office, or from the performance of official duties and the exercise of official authority, any officer or person holding or exercising, or professing to hold or exercise, any civil or military office or duty in such district, under any power, election, appointment or authority derived from, or granted by, or claimed to be derived from, or granted by, or claimed to be derived from, or granted by, or claimed to be derived from any so called State, or the Government thereof, or any municipal or other division thereof; and upon such suspension or removal, such Commander shall have power to provide, from time, for the performance of said duties of such officer or person so suspended or removed, by the detail of some competent officer or soldier of the army, or by the appointment of some other person to perform the same, but the vacancies occasioned by death, resignation or otherwise.

And the third section provides that:

The General of the Army of the United States shall be entrusted with all the power of suspension, removal and appointment granted in the preceding section to District Commanders.

It is obvious from this language that the powers conferred on General Grant do not relate to the appointment and removal of district commanders, but to the suspension or removal from office of any person holding or exercising authority "under any so-called State or the Government thereof." Nor is it possible to see how General Grant or any one else could have construed the act as taking away from the Executive the right to appoint or remove district commanders, and giving this power to the General of the army. Hence we state our belief that Grant never insisted that these powers, under the law, belonged to him. The story is clearly an invention of the "special correspondents." They made Grant's protest against Sheridan's removal an act of disobedience on the part of the former to the superior authority of the Executive. There is nothing in the supplementary reconstruction act which can by any sort of reasonable construction be interpreted as giving the General of the army the sole power of appointment and removal in the case of the district commanders; nor has Congress attempted by this or any other method to deprive the Executive of his constitutional power as commander-in chief of the armies of the United States.

Utterly Incomprehensible.

We know not whether the city organ, in speaking of what it is pleased to call "reform measures" does so authoritatively, that is, under the inspiration of the majority of the Council, but if such is the case those five members have more "brass" than anybody had ever given them credit for, which is saying about as much as could be said on that point. We suppose, however, that the "organ" speaks by their command, and that they take this method of publishing their own shame and falsehood to the community. It says that the reduction of the Recorder's salary to $300 a year, with a charge against him of $300 per annum for the rent of the Court room, "is what the reform portion of the Council have been aiming at for the past year, but which they have been prevented from accomplishing by party combinations!" Heard ever any one the like from men who still dare to show their faces in public? Why was not this so-called reform introduced six or nine months ago? The "reformers" had the same strength in the Council then that they have now. If this was a great "reform measure," why the need of waiting? Why was it delayed till this particular time and sprung immediately after the Council had been defeated in their attempt to remove the Recorder from office? The fact is so patent that the movement is one of spite and revenge that it is positively incredible that anybody should be brazen enough to invent and publish so weak, so puerile, so transparent a falsehood in its defense.

Further, it is actually assumed by the "reformers" that it was settled by the election, that the pay of the Recorder of this city is to be just nothing at all! Now if cheap government is the word, why not cut down the pay of the other officers in the same proportion? Give the Marshal $25 a month; the Auditor $20, the Treasurer $10, and let the Street Commissioner live on the garbage he finds in the course of his daily occupation. This will make things even all round, and if the Council is in earnest to introduce "reform," it will do this at once. Let us have things equal, and then nobody can complain.

It is utterly incomprehensible how a body of men can cause such statements to be published as have appeared in the "organ" and not be ashamed of them, knowing as they do that every person who reads them must be perfectly aware of their silliness and falsity. If we were assured that the editor of the "organ" were alone responsible for them, our surprise would not so great, for his audacity is equal to any effort in the way of falsehood that may be required of him, but it will ever remain a wonder how five men could be found who have the effrontery to put forth such statements in extenuation of their conduct and dare ever again to face the public. Their statements,—if what is said by the "organ" is delivered by authority,—are not believed by three men in the city, and they know it.

Hostile tribes are around Phil Kearney, led by the three greatest and most war like chiefs. They mean war to the death.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 1.—A dispatch from Fort Hayes says: No news is received from the expedition sent in pursuit of the Indians, but it is believed that a severe battle had taken place. All the savages in this section say they do not desire peace, but all kill Commissioners if possible. They are driving all the buffalo towards the valleys on the Republican Fork.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Forty members of Maximilian's body guard sailed for Europe to-day, having been brought here by a French war steamer, with fifty or sixty members of foreign diplomatic legations in Mexico.

Another Opinion by the Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The Attorney General has submitted a long opinion to the President in regard to Sickles' interference with the judicial process. He argues at length in favor of the supremacy of the courts under the Constitution, over military authority, and shows that Sickles' order virtually abolished the court in which the authority is vested by the organic law. Congress has no power to interfere. He says Sickles' error reaches the full stature of perversion of authority, which if persisted in, immediately acquires the character of levying war against the United States, an undertaking he cannot impute to deliberate intention. Sickles therefore may have been in doubt as to jurisdiction in his issuing the order, but Sickles could not have contemplated disputing supreme power, but had he been disposed to ascertain the extent of his authority through a competent court, a decision might have been procured.

He then proceeds to show that Sickles, in interfering with the District Court, was really interfering with the entire judiciary, including the Supreme Court. He examines various laws of Congress, shows, with exception of suspension in interruption of regular sessions of Courts by rebellion, that judicial establishments remain intact as if there had been no rebellion, and requires no restoration or legislation. He quotes the law for the punishment of persons resisting or obstructing an officer in execution of processes of the Court, and says the laws are still in force, and the President is bound to execute them by the whole power of the nation if necessary. The collision of authority which calls forth this opinion is a misdemeanor, if contumacious or unfaithful, and the executive agent having offended against the unlawful power of the Judiciary, has rendered himself liable to prosecution according to law, and unless the President promptly represses the contumacy disclosed by him he will be exposed to the imputation of culpable insensibility to the co-ordinate dignity and paramount authority of the national department of justice. History teaches us that when contempt of law is indulged it speedily grasps at the heart-strings of public order.

Jones clearly failed after the terrific blows delivered in the first round. Just before the battle, Jones bantered McCool for a bet of $1,000 that he would knock him down first. McCool bet no money and nobody took the bet. Jones was knocked down in every round. McCool was comparatively untouched. Two of Jones' ribs were broken and frontal bone crushed in. He was conveyed to Hamilton, Ohio, in a carriage, where he now lies. McCool forced the fighting all along, while Jones acted on the defensive.

CONGRESSIONAL AID FOR A ROAD.—At the present time there is either steamboat or practicable wagon transportation from here to the principal mining regions of Montana, with the exception of that portion of the route occupied by the Pen d'Oreille mountains. Through these mountains there is only a pack trail. Transportation by pack trains is very expensive and this section of the route is, therefore a very great hindrance to the commercial connection of Montana with this country. To make a road through the Pend'Oreille canyon will require a very large amount of money [illegible], probably, for individual enterprise. It is proposed, therefore, to obtain an appropriation by Congress, if possible, and for that purpose the following petition has been put in circulation, and all interested are asked to sign it:

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

The undersigned, your petitioners, residents of Washington and Montana Territories, would respectfully represent the common interest each feels in the welfare of the other, upon which the general welfare of all depends. Isolated as we are, thousands of miles from the great center of trade and commerce, yet representing so large an extent of the public domain, we come confidently trusting in the justice of our cause. The extent of country represented is unquestionably rich in mineral, agricultural and pastoral resources, attracting considerable attention at the present time, but which, at no distant day, when suitable means for travel and transportation are supplied, will astonish the world. With a joint population of not to exceed 150,000, scattered for so great a distance, and so entirely dependent upon each other, our great drawbacks to the rapid settlement of the oft portions, known to be rich in resources above named, are suitable roads. The pioneer miner with his pack, closely followed by mule trains, may be a time upon trails through the dense forests and mountain gorges, yet camps, town and lands are deserted on account of the immense cost of transporting supplies by pack trains, and not being able to build suitable way, or roads. The entire northern portion of Montana Territory is practically cut off from communication with the great Columbia River and the Pacific Coast, for the want of a wagon road from "Horse Plains" to "Cabinet Landing," on the Pen d'Oreille River, commonly called "Clark's Fork of the Columbia," a distance of one hundred miles, which, if improved, would open up a great through thoroughfare for trade and travel by stages, teams and other wise, for [illegible] and [illegible] on the most practicable and direct route to the great Columbia River and the Pacific Coast. Private enterprise has already accomplished much towards developing these far off sections, by building steamboats on Pen d'Oreille Lake and portions of Clark's Fork, which are now navigating those waters successfully. Should your Honorable Body favor this, our petition, by the making a suitable appropriation for the opening of a wagon road, the iron mines, woolen factories and paper mills of Oregon, as well as the merchant and farmer, would have a new incentive to their energies in competition for a portion of the trade of Montana, while the latter would be immensely benefitted by having an additional market thrown open to them from the Far West, distant only 500 miles from Fort Benton, on the Missouri, to Walla, on the Columbia, and which would be accessible throughout the entire year. Government would be greatly benefitted by the enhanced value to its public lands along the route, which could thus be brought in market, and in opening up a short, practical and direct route for the transportation of troops and Government supplies between Montana and Oregon, which, in the present unsettled state of our Indian troubles, promises in a short time to save in the cost of this transportation several times the amount of appropriation asked, to say nothing of the saving of time. To this end and for the purpose herein set forth, your petitioners most respectfully ask that the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars be appropriated, to be expended, as soon as practicable, in building a wagon road from "Horse Plains" to "Cabinet Landing," on the Pen d'Oreille River, in Montana Territory. Wherefore your petitioners would ever pray.

FIREMEN'S PARADE.—In accordance with the public announcements, the Portland Fire Department had its Annual Parade, yesterday, in which, however, the companies did not all participate. Columbian Engine Co. No. 3, and Vigilance Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, turned out as companies with most of their members in attendance. A delegation from Willamette Engine Co. No. 1, turned out with the Co's Hose carriage. The other companies were not represented by a single member, so far as we know. At about half-past 10 A. M., the Tumult Troup arrived from Vancouver, having on board the Gen. Allen Engine Co. No. 2, Young American Engine Co. (Juvenile,) delegations from the other companies, and the 14th Infantry band. These were met at the landing by the Portland firemen who escorted them through Front and Washington streets to the Engine house of No 3's where the Gen. Allen Co's engine was temporarily housed. The procession then broke up for the time and the Young Americans took their little engine to the cistern at the junction of Washington and First streets and, taking water, gave our people a specimen of what the boys can do with their machine. This part of the performance was a decided novelty, on account of the small size of the boys who alone worked the engine, and was witnessed by a vast crowd of spectators. At one o'clock, at the ringing of the bells, the firemen assembled at the house of No. 3's and formed in procession, the 14th Infantry band leading and followed by the Vancouver firemen; then came the Mechanic's band followed by the Portland firemen. Counter-marching, the procession moved down Washington to Front; Front to B; B to First, First to Taylor; Taylor to Second; second to Madison; Madison to Front; Front to Yamhill; bound Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1; through Yamhill to Second; Second to Washington, bounced No. 3; down Washington to Front; Front to Morrison to steamer Pinnie Troup, when the Vancouver engines were placed on board the steamer. The firemen then marched to the American Exchange Hotel where they, with other guests partook of a dinner provided at the expense of the Portland firemen. After dinner, the Vancouver firemen were escorted to the Pinnie Troup, where the usual farewell cheers were rendered and the proceedings of the day were ended.

PAYMASTER GLENN RELIEVED AND ORDERED TO WASHINGTON.—Major George E Glenn, Paymaster United States Army, after having served two years in this Department, has been relieved and ordered to Washington. He will leave here on the first of the coming month. Major Glenn, on receiving his appointment as additional Paymaster in 1862, entered upon duty in the South Western States, where, after disbursing more than five millions of dollars, he was ordered to the Pacific coast; and for more than two years he has paid the troops in Southeastern Oregon, a laborious field of duty, and occasionally in other portions of the Department. Last summer, on his return to Fort Boise, from Camp Warren, his money, which he supposed he had deposited in a place of security was seized by robbers and carried off; and it was not until after months of the most unremitting, laborious and self-sacrificing efforts, that he succeeded in recovering a large portion of the stolen money. The authorities at Washington, properly appreciating his services, on the 27th of June, 1867, appointed him to be a Paymaster of the regular army. Congress, we think, will doubtless relieve him from responsibility for the deficit in his accounts caused by the robbery. Paymaster Glenn has been a most efficient officer in this Department.

A LIVELY RUNAWAY.—Yesterday when the head of the firemen's procession, marching up First street, reached Yamhill street, a team attached to an empty hay wagon, took fright at the band and dashed up Yamhill street at a furious pace, raising such a dust as was never before seen in that locality. Just after passing Second street, one of the fore wheels of the wagon came off, and about midway between Third and Fourth, the rest of the wagon was left leaning against a post in a somewhat piled-up condition, though, strange to say, very little damaged. The horses being clear of the wagon, turned down Fourth and disappeared in a gigantic cloud of dust. Some children playing in the street very narrowly escaped being run over. One brave little toddler ran out before the horses to try to stop them, and only missed by a hair's breadth being crushed under the horses' feet.

THE FIREMEN'S BALL.—The firemen of this city closed the celebration of their Annual Parade day, with a ball at the Turn Verein Hall last evening. The occasion was a very pleasant and happy one, so far as we could determine during a short visit just before midnight. The hall is a fine one, though rather small for so large a party, but everybody seemed to enjoy the crowd, the music, the dance, and everything else appertaining to the party. The music was furnished by Prof Grob's band. The attentions to guests, rendered by the managers, were marked by such an ardent desire to please every one at ease and in a way to enjoy the occasion, distinguished the party from most others in Portland, of which we have had any personal knowledge. Among the guests we noticed several gentlemen of the Vancouver Fire Department.

WASHINGTON COUNTY FAIR.—The Washington County fair will be opened on the new grounds of the Society, near Hillsboro, on Tuesday, September 24th, and will continue through Wednesday, Thursday and Friday following. The Society offers $1,000 in premiums. We understand that the grounds will be conveniently and nicely fitted up. For the accomodation of parties here who may desire to attend, Mr. Jamison will run his stage daily during the fair.

RECORDER'S COURT.—After a week's time during which not a single charge had been lodged in the Recorder's Court, business opened up yesterday, by the filing of a charge against Mrs. Ehwert for disorderly conduct. After a trial, however, she was acquitted. A complaint was lodged against Oscar Strelbig by —— Gallagher, charging him with stealing hay. At the complaint of A. Kollner, a warrant was issued for the arrest of John Henriel for the larceny of a design for a house.

BUCHTEL AHEAD OF COMPETITION.—Just after the Young America Engine Co., of Vancouver, concluded their playing, yesterday, at the Washington and First street cistern, Mr Jos. Buchtel took a picture of the Company and spectators standing around. From the time of taking the negative, he was just one hour in printing, finishing and framing the picture for exhibition. This may be called very quick work and probably eclipses the speed of any other artist in the State, on a large group picture.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, JUSTICE.—The September term of the U. S. Circuit Court opened yesterday, Judge Deady sitting as Justice. An order was entered continuing all cases on error and appeal, to Monday, the 12th. The suit of F. A. Davis vs. H. C. & J. N. Victor was dismissed, and costs charged against the plaintiff. The suit of Joseph Buchtel vs. W. F. Poldeman, was continued till next term. James Stockton, J. P. O. Lucas et al., continued till the 7th by agreement of parties.

A QUARTZ MILL.—The Montana brought up the castings for a large quartz mill, and they were unloaded and hauled to the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf yesterday. The mill was originally contracted for at the Oregon Iron Works, and, we believe, was partly cast when the foundry was burned. After that unfortunate event, the parties—an English Co.—ordered the work from a San Francisco foundry.

TO BE SOLD.—The Oregon City paper factory, with machinery and fixtures, will be sold at sheriff's sale on Saturday next, to satisfy a judgment in favor of the Bank of British Columbia.

COUNTY COURT.—The county court began its September term yesterday, Judge Marquam presiding. Very little was done except to set several cases for trial to-day.

LEG AMPUTATED.—Mr Jamison, the Forest Grove and Portland expressman, informs us that the operation of amputating the wounded leg of Charles O. Lander was performed yesterday by Drs Bowlby and Boyce. Lander will be recollected as the man who was shot in the leg some time ago, near Rainier while running from parties attempting his arrest.

SPECIAL AUCTION SALE.—Mr A. H. Richardson, Auctioneer, will have a special sale to-day at 10 o'clock, of furniture at the corner of Fifth and Alder streets. For enumeration of articles, see advertisement in last column of the 2d page. The furniture has been used but little and is nearly as good as new.

A QUICK TRIP.—By the mail Saturday evening, we received the Pittsburg (Pa.) Gazette of August 10th, just three weeks old. It came by the overland mail via Salt Lake and Idaho. This time is a decided improvement over the thirty to thirty-five days trips via Sacramento.

MILITARY.—Col Rouo, Inspector General of this Department, left Fort Vancouver on Monday, on a tour of inspection to the Districts of the Lakes and District of Owyhee. Lieut Houston will leave this morning for Fort Colville, with 30 recruits.

WILLAMETTE FREIGHTS.—Arrived per steamer Senator, yesterday 36 gunnies bacon, 35 bf bbls miscellaneous produce, 1 box do., 182 sks bran 10 bags wheat, 12 cases woolen goods, 1 bale mdse, 960 qr sks flour, 1 box eggs, 4 cases mdse, 4 pkgs mdse.

FROM MCCORMICK.—We acknowledge the receipt from Mr S. J. McCormick of a liberal bundle of newspapers, magazines and pictorials, received by the Montana. McCormick has supplies of all the leading periodical publications.

TAKEN TO THE INSANE ASYLUM.—Charles Pickett, who was at one time a keeper of the Penitentiary in this city, was taken to the Insane Asylum, yesterday, by Sheriff Stitzel.

TO SAIL.—The steamship Montana, Capt. Metzger, will sail from this port for San Francisco on Thursday the 5th, at 6 o'clock P. M.

MESSAGES.—Messages for Mrs. James Swafford and Dennis Corcoran are uncalled for at the telegraph office.

LIFE INSURANCE.—The advantages of life insurance have never been more prominently brought before this community than within the past few days. Three gentlemen, Herman Greenhood, C. H. Grimm, and John Arnold, all well known business men, have died leaving families. These gentlemen were all comparatively young men, and a few months since were in good health. Knowing the uncertainty of all things, they took the precaution to secure something to their families that the uncertainty of business could not deprive them of. Each had a policy in the Manhattan Insurance Company, of New York—Mr. Greenhood for $10,000, gold; Mr. Grimm for $5,000 in currency, and Mr. Arnold for $5,000 in currency.—S. F. Times.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU
Is a certain cure for diseases of the BLADDER, KIDNEYS, GRAVEL, DROPSY, ORGANIC WEAKNESS, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, GENERAL DEBILITY, and all diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE,
from whatever cause originating and no matter of HOW LONG STANDING.
Diseases of these organs require the use of a diuretic. If no treatment is submitted to, Consumption or Insanity may ensue. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources, and the HEALTH AND HAPPINESS, and that of Posterity, depends upon prompt use of a reliable remedy.
HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU,

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.
Travelers are always liable to sudden attacks of dysentery and cholera morbus, and those occurring when absent from home are very unpleasant. PERRY DAVIS VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER may always be relied upon in such cases. As soon as you feel the symptoms, take one teaspoonful in a gill of new milk and molasses, and a gill of hot water. Stir well together and drink hot. Repeat the dose every hour until relieved. If the pain be severe, bathe the bowels and back with the medicine, clear.
Fishermen, so often exposed to hurts by having their skin pierced with hooks and fins of fish, can be much relieved by bathing with a little Pain Killer as soon as the accident occurs. In this way the anguish is soon abated; bathe as often as once in five minutes, say three or four times, and you will seldom have any trouble. Sold by dealers everywhere.
THE GLORY OF MAN IS STRENGTH.—Therefore the nervous and debilitated should immediately use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU.
HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU and IMPROVED ROSE WASH cures secret and delicate disorders in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience and no exposure. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action and free from all injurious properties.

Victoria's Courtship.

Queen Victoria has written a book, or at least a good part of one, and carefully supervised the remainder, on the early life of the late Prince Consort, in which there are some singularly frank and pleasant revelations of the inner life and heart work of royalty. We find two letters copied by the London correspondent of the New York Times which will be read with interest, and deepen the good will which is felt for the writers in the minds of all right minded people. The first is from Albert to his grandmother, apprising her that the matter between him and Victoria had been arranged:

"The subject which has occupied us so much of late is at last settled. The Queen sent for me alone to her room, a few days ago, and declared to me in a genuine outburst of love and affection, that I had gained her whole heart, and would make her intensely happy if I would make her the sacrifice of sharing my life with her, for she said she looked on it as a sacrifice, the only thing which troubled her was that she did not think she was worthy of me. The joyous openness of manner in which she told me this quite enchanted me, and I was quite carried away by it. She is really most good and amiable, and I am quite sure heaven has not given me into evil hands, and that we shall be happy together.

"Since that moment Victoria does whatever she fancies I should wish or like, and we talk together a great deal about our future life, which she promises me to make as happy as possible. Oh, the future! does it not bring with it the moment when I shall have to take leave of my dear, dear home, and of you! I cannot think of that without deep melancholy taking possession of me. It was on the 15th of October that Victoria made me this declaration, and I have hitherto shrunk from telling you; but how does delay make it better?"

This is very charming and quite in character with the man. The next is still better, wherein Victoria tells her uncle, the King of Belgium, about it:

WINDSOR CASTLE, Oct. 5, 1839.

MY DEAREST UNCLE: This letter will, I am sure, give you pleasure, for you have always shown and taken so warm an interest in all that concerns me. My mind is quite made up, and I told Albert this morning of it. The warm affection he showed me on learning this gave me great pleasure. He seems perfection, and I think that I have the prospect of very great happiness before me. I love him more than I can say, and shall do everything in my power to render this sacrifice (for such in my opinion it is) as small as I can. He seems to have great tact, a very necessary thing in his position. These last few days have passed like a dream to me, and I am so much bewildered by it all that I know hardly how to write; but I do feel very happy. It is absolutely necessary that this determination of mine should be known to no one but yourself and to Uncle Ernest until after the meeting of Parliament, as it would be considered, otherwise, neglectful on my part not to have assembled Parliament at once to inform them of it.

Lord Melbourne, whom I have of course consulted about the whole affair, quite approves my choice, and expresses great satisfaction at this event, which he thinks in every way highly desirable.

Lord Melbourne has acted in this business as he has always done towards me, with the greatest kindness and affection. We also think it better, and Albert quite approves of it, that we should be married soon after Parliament meets, about the beginning of February.

Pray dearest Uncle, forward these two letters to Uncle Ernest, to whom I beg you will enjoin strict secrecy, and explain those details which I have not time to do, and to faithful Stockmar. I think you might tell Louise of it, but none of her family.

I wish to keep the dear young gentleman here until the end of next month. Ernest's sincere sincere gives me great delight. He does so adore dearest Albert. Ever dearest Uncle,

Your devoted Niece, V. R.

Tennessee.

For some weeks past the Democrats and Conservatives have insisted with a degree of earnestness and pertinacity reflecting to superficial observers an intense sincerity that there was imminent danger of numerous and bloody collisions in Tennessee on the day of the general election, which was Thursday of the present week; in fact, that it was seriously apprehended civil war might then and there break out again, and might possibly spread whither. These people ventured the President to remove the Governor of Tennessee, a State whose full membership in the Union is acknowledged by all departments of the government, arrogate the State Constitution to repeal laws duly passed by the Legislature, to lose it to military administration; and to do all manner of things which they pronounce these flagrant and unpardonable usurpations when done in regard to commonwealths that have not been restored to former privileges and rights by the clamorous Congress. Such inconsistency was invoked in making these demands as to beget a suspicion, at least, that the only superintending motive was not fear of actual disorder and misrule, and that under this apparent desire for the preservation of public order, lurked a scheme for attaining political advantages in contravention of established law. Executive violence was invoked to the end that the rebel element might, by means of it, gain a triumph not otherwise obtainable.

The election was held. It was the most peaceable election the State has witnessed for many years. There was literally no disturbance. The ballots were quietly deposited and counted and the results announced. Not a man killed, or maimed, or even knocked down. All the tempest was in efforts to induce President Johnson to stretch his authority for the benefit of men who would gladly have hung him up the nearest tree three years ago, but for wholesome fear of Union bayonets.

Of course the Conservatives will be likely to assert that the admirable tranquility that prevailed was due to the precautionary military arrangements made by Gen. Thomas. We are not disposed to dispute, but those arrangements had a restraining influence on them, the extent of which they are in a condition to appreciate more fully than other people. It may be they would have resorted to ruffianism if additions had not been made to the military force in readiness provided actually repression had become necessary. But we deny emphatically that there was a reasonable probability of tumultuary proceedings on the other side. The use made by General Thomas of Gov. Brownlow's militia shows that he did not anticipate excesses from that quarter. He understood that the State authorities and the supporters there, of would act strictly within the letter and spirit of the laws. This was further evinced by the unwillingness of General Grant to go in person to Tennessee that he might add the weight of his name and authority to the efforts to calm the excepted tempest. He clearly did not believe a storm was brewing in the party holding the local administration or that the other party would adopt extreme measures unless they could do so under the protection of the President himself.

The lesson is valuable in its application to the existing status in all the Southern States. In the elections and in the proceedings preliminary thereto but little, if any, trouble will be encountered except under encouragement from the Executive at Washington.

ACROSS THE PLAINS.—A Salem paper has the following:

Mr. Rumburg, who served through the war as a captain of a company of Texan Rangers in the United States service, doing 'scouting duty, has called on us and given us many interesting particulars of his late trip across the plains. The company of 52 persons and 13 wagons with which he was, left the neighborhood of St. Jo, Missouri, on the first of May last, and he reached Grand Ronde Valley the 25th day of July. As they traveled to Salt Lake with mule teams, they averaged about 25 miles per day, from St. Lake to Boise City he made thirty-seven miles per day. So that the trip was made in a very short time. Indian depredations were continually going on around them, on the other side of the Rocky Mountains, but they saw no Indians and experienced no mishap. The company contained forty-seven men, well armed, and therefore offered little inducement for the Indians to assail. He describes the emigration behind them, from which he had very reliable intelligence, as coming in strong force to Washington Territory, and also to this State. The majority of his own company took the roads from Salt Lake to the mines of Montana and Idaho, but he expects many of them eventually to come to Oregon.

A large German emigration is now on the way to reinforce the colony at Aurora. One particular fact Mr. Rumburg asserts with much positiveness, that is: that the greater majority of the emigration are Union men; for forty-five out of forty-seven of his own company were so inclined. He says there was an inducement for a large democratic exodus a few years since, and we had the benefit of it; but that no longer exists. He describes the region around Salt Lake as very fertile and capable of sustaining a large population. When the railroad runs against Mormonism and overturns it, then the region will become important to the outside world. Mr. Rumburg intends to become a citizen of Salem.

"CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE."

J. H. UPTON & A. NOLTNER, Proprietors

ON SATURDAY, AUGUST 31, 1867, A LARGE SIZE WEEKLY PAPER, with the above title, will be issued at SALEM, OREGON.

The CHRONICLE will be devoted to Politics, News, and the development of the varied resources of the State. In politics the CHRONICLE will be unflinchingly Democratic, supporting and advocating all those reforms in National and State policy so urgently demanded at the present time by every consideration involving the weal of the American people. The necessity for a Democratic organ firmly planted at the Capital, will be at once apparent to every thinking Democrat in the State. Such a one we propose to make the CAPITAL CITY CHRONICLE, and with the State thoroughly Democratic to-day, with all prospective changes in favor of that party, there is no valid reason why the enterprise shall not prove a complete success.

While the CHRONICLE will devote ample space to the discussion of political topics, the News of the day, the Agricultural Mining, Mechanical and Manufacturing interests of the State at large will receive due attention. A twenty-eight column paper, 20x38 inches in size, will furnish ample space and enable us to present in each number an amount of reading matter equal to the importance of the interests involved. We only ask at the hands of the people that legitimate patronage which shall enable us to present a sheet in every way creditable to ourselves and the State—one which none may have the least reason to be ashamed of.

All contracts for advertising and subscription existing with the late Democratic Review will be faithfully executed by the proprietor of the CHRONICLE.

Terms of Subscription:

Single copy, one year.....$ 3 00
Five copies, one year.....13 75
Ten copies, one year.....25 00

And for any greater number, one year, at the rate of $2 50 each.

CARD.

DR. HARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in San Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and "bad luck."

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.
